

Korean Day December 6th, 2017 (Wed)

岡山大学にいる韓国人の学生はL-caféで12月6日(水)に韓国ディというイベントを開催した。このイベントの目標は人々が本物の韓国についてもっと知ることと韓国の文化を経験することだった。韓国人の学生は韓国ドラマとおいしい韓国の食べ物、韓国ゲームを計画した。

韓国ディには12時から日本でも有名なチーズタッカルビとゆず茶を売った。その時は一番忙しかった。韓国ドラマを見ながら、韓国について質問コーナーもした。その後、ホットクも作った。

このイベントのため、L-café 来ない生徒や職員の方はL-café に来られるようになった。それは一番よかったことだ。このような文化の日が増えたら、学生たちが本物の料理や文化を交流が良くできると思う。

On Wednesday, December 6th 2017, the Korean students of Okayama University held a Korean Day Event. The target for this event was to let more students know about the “real Korea” and experience Korean culture. Therefore, they played famous Korean dramas, served authentic Korean dishes, and played traditional games. The students worked together to plan the event, with every hour being a different activity.

On the day of the event, an exchange student from Korea prepared a recently famous in Japan dish, cheese tagalbi, which is a spicy cheese and chicken dish served with rice. They also prepared a Korean tea (ゆず茶) which was also very popular. This was the busiest time of the day, with over fifty students enjoying Korean food.

The students also showed Korean dramas, played games with other Japanese students, and answered any questions that were asked about Korean culture. They also made a sweet dish called ホットク and added more sugar and honey to make it more geared towards Japanese tastes.

From this event, the best thing was that people who never come to the L-café before had a reason to come in. Students also had an opportunity to see the “real Korea,” which was important to the Korean students. Korea Day opened a door to have more and more international events at the L-café.
